

PIRRE

EDM PRODUCER & DJ & MUSICIAN

BIO

Pirre is an independent EDM producer, multi-instrumentalist, and DJ from Germany. Inspired by Avicii, he began producing electronic music in 2018, later releasing through record labels and briefly reaching close to 10,000 listeners before being dropped. After stepping back and producing purely for himself for years, Pirre is now releasing music again as a fully independent artist — on his own terms, without a label. His sound sits closest to Progressive House, though he doesn't produce with genres in mind. His comeback single, "You Better Save Me," marks the start of this new chapter.
